

Mobilizer Plan

We want to help you develop a strategic plan to mobilize your friends and family.

Step 1: Pray

The mobilizer's first step is to align his heart with God's purpose. Just like Nehemiah, your first step in forming a strategy should start by spending extended time with the Lord. Synchronize your heart and passion to His Word and His Purpose. Ask God to direct you people you can mobilize.

Step 2: Audience

- What group of people would you like to influence and help become World Christians? Start small, such as a church small group, Sunday school class, Bible study, friends, or family. Later on, you can develop strategies to mobilize larger groups such as an entire church.

---

---

- Now get specific and list people from that group or others you'd like to mobilize?

Step 3: Identify Partners

- Is there someone in that group who you can partner with? Consider sharing your vision and goals with them, pray together, and work towards mobilizing that group together.

---

Step 4: Determine First Steps:

- Mobilizing people to pray for unreached peoples, internationals around you, and missionaries is an easy first step. How could you introduce World Prayer in this group?

---

---

---

- Do you want to start off by sharing the Biblical Basis of Mission or Window with each person?

---

---

Step 5: Invite them:

- What would it be like to lead an Xplore Study with them? Who would you recruit to it?

---

---

---

- What experiences could you invite them to do with you, such as World Prayer, Welcoming Internationals, or helping Send a missionary?

---

---

---

- What event could you invite them to? (mission seminars, conferences, prayer times, Perspectives?)

---

---

---

Step 6: Go Mobilize

- When will you do this? Put dates next to each of these steps. Who could hold you accountable to your goals?

---

God is With You

Don't be afraid to fail here. You will undoubtedly have missteps. Don't let that deter you. Everyone falls down. But the distinguishing characteristic of a good leader is continuing to get up and press onward. Let that be you. Don't be deterred. Be confident that you are aligned with God's heart and purpose. He is with you!
